QUESTIONNAIRES WILL BE SENT 18-YEAR-OLDS

Local Draft Board Receives Orders to Call Many Here For Examination.

The local draft boards have received orders from state military headquarters at Charleston to send questionnaires to all of the 18 years of age registrants who registered September 12, and the work of mailing the questionnaires will begin at once.

These were the only orders received in regard to continuing the board's work for the army.

A mistaken idea prevails with a great many people that since the armistice was signed, that they are relieved of their duty to the nation, but this is not so, as every registrant is still at the command of the government.

Anna M. Schenck Bankrupt
An order of adjudicating Anna M. Schenck a bankrupt was entered at the office of the clerk of the federal district court yesterday, and the matter was referred to Referee in Bankruptcy A. C. Schiffer.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.
Do not imagine that because other cough medicines failed to give you relief that it will be the same with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Bear in mind that from a small beginning this remedy has gained a world wide reputation and immense sale. A medicine must have exceptional merit to win esteem wherever it becomes known.

BUSINESS MEN URGE ALL TO SHOP EARLY

Will Furnish Patriotic Stickers for Packages—To Have Uniform Business Hours.

With everybody pulling for the government to help in the big job that follows the signing of the peace treaty, there is much that the individual can do that will become apparent with a little thought.

One of these little things, that is really a big thing, is early shopping for the holidays. The government is very desirous of having this done to relieve the congestion of the mails during the Christmas holidays. The service is now overhauled, and with the holidays approaching the various offices will be swamped and much mail designed for holiday delivery will not reach the consignee until some time after the big day is over.

To facilitate this delivery and at the same time relieve the burden on the stores the government has asked that Christmas purchases be made now and mailed now with a sticker, which will be furnished by the merchant on reading: "This is a holiday package. Not to be opened until Christmas."

At a meeting held yesterday morning in the offices of the Chamber of Commerce, a number of prominent business men representing various lines of trade discussed the proposition, and all agreed to do everything in their power to urge their customers to shop early, and where shipping was necessary to ship early.

They also agreed upon a uniform opening and closing hour, and this will be from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. the first five days of the week, and from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. on Saturday. This, it is expected, will be adopted by all the stores in the city and the hours uniformly observed.

Crowder Congratulates City Draft Board

Provost Marshal Warmly Praises Local Officials in Efficient Work Achieved in Loyal Duty.

The city draft board has received a telegram from Provost Marshal Crowder, via the state draft headquarters at Charleston, which is in part as follows:

"I extend to the members of the selective service system my personal congratulations upon their truly great achievements of the past year and a half; achievements that have taxed to the utmost the time, the ability and the endurance of all those engaged in the work, and that have furnished the army to which in a large measure must be given the credit for saving to the world both civilization and government by the people. To you members of that system must come a sense of duty well done which only a loyalty, patriotism and devotion such as yours can bring.

The country and the world know that it owes to you a debt of thanks and gratitude which cannot be measured by words, but only by the affection, the respect and the esteem, new yours, of those among whom you live and from whom you have taken that which was beyond price."

THEATRES ARE SUFFERING HERE

MANY OF THE EMPLOYEES HAVE NOT RECEIVED A PAY FOR SEVERAL WEEKS.

It Is Hoped That The Situation Will Improve in Wheeling Soon—Fla Is About Gone.

With the Spanish influenza passing away all over the country and theatres opening up everywhere after their abnormally enforced closing period, a little story concerning amusement houses will not come amiss, said a well known theatre man who is in the city.

Whenever there is a calamity that causes sorrow and privation, the theatre is always rushed to for assistance, because it always lends itself to those matters for the relief of the public contribution to emergency funds. But just why the show houses should be selected as an innocent victim when it is not needed for charity, as in the case of this epidemic, is a serious question. The theatrical managers of the United States will solve it after it has all passed over and be able to guard against it in the future. It will no doubt be the cause of a bill being passed by the senate to prohibit closing theatres in case of epidemics again. This is the first time in the history of theatricals that this has been done.

Health officers who order the theatres closed and allow the department stores, markets, 5 and 10 cent stores, etc., to remain open when coming in for a great deal of criticism. If influenza spreads its contagion in mixed gatherings, where could they be found, as in the case of these theatres on railway trains and in street cars?

The theatre is not congested. Commissioner of Health of New York City, one of his earliest and most sensible recommendations to prevent an unnecessary spread of the disease in New York City, and he never closed a theatre. All theatres have seats with so much space allowed to each. There is another sweet deal of criticism. If influenza spreads its contagion in mixed gatherings, where could they be found, as in the case of these theatres on railway trains and in street cars?

The legitimate and picture houses here suddenly submitted to the closing order as the first fear of any similar thing. They did not want to go against public policy, but it is not public policy when gross discrimination is easily seen, when the most dangerous spots are overlooked, to attack the theatre, the center of the community. One followed the other, health officers doing what they thought was right, but always somehow, not seeing where any closing action should have been first aimed at. If this is not a matter that deeply concerns the theatre, its managers, players and staffs, in the case of this epidemic, the epidemic has abated in less time than it took to close the theatres. The claim is made that in five weeks the amusement places have suffered a loss of over $5,000,000, which makes the government the loser to the extent of over $5,000,000 in war tax. The Wheeling theatres have suffered losses that can never be made up, running perhaps around $15,000 in the six weeks they have been closed up. And not only have the houses suffered, but about 50 to 60 theatre employees have been deprived of their way of making a living, in fact the bread has been taken from their mouths and they have been obliged in many cases to borrow money from their employers to live on.

If we must remain closed longer, why not issue a general order closing everything except food and drug stores and make an effort to stamp out the disease promptly?

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 12.—Charged with having swindled a Follansbee man out of $2,000, which he is alleged to have obtained upon the promise to invest it in stocks and then appropriated it to his own use, M. R. Y., was issued today by Governor Cornell on Governor Whitman, of New York.
